BANQUET

Will be Spread for Ministers Here During Conference

Nothing Will be Left Undone to Make Them Feel Welcome.

When the annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church meets here on Thursday, September 11, to spend a week in our growing little city where it will be given a hearty welcome.

The business men of our city are making extensive preparations for a banquet to be spread in the dining hall of Union College at eight o'clock on the evening of Thursday, September 21. Every citizen of our town will be welcome and is entitled to attend.

It will be required of every gentleman of our city who attends to either donate to the committee having the matter in charge in advance or pay at the door that evening one dollar which will entitle himself and lady to the banquet.

There will be at least one hundred and twenty-five ministers who will be the guests of our city in whose honor the banquet will be given and a little help from each of our citizens will make the burden light on all.

Those who desire to help meet this expense can see Judge F. D. Sampson at any time and leave their donations with him as he is the Chairman of the Committee having the matter in hand.

Let everybody join in making this one of the nicest occasions that our town has ever witnessed.

JANUARY 5, 1909,

Date Fixed For County Republican Primary.

The County Committee met at the courthouse last Saturday afternoon and fixed the date of the Republican primary for Tuesday, January 5, 1909.

Almost all of the candidate announced for the various offices were present and were given a chance to be heard and without a single exception each one expressed a desire to have the primary as early as possible, which under the party law cannot be held until January 1.

The committee joined in the concurrence of the candidates and fixed the date for the first Tuesday in January.

The fight will now be waged bitterly until the close of the polls when quite a number will go down in defeat while a few will be the victors.

And there is many a bad scar on our fortunes where he had to prod us up to the mark.

The Mountain Advocate, with promptness goes to its legion of readers fifty-two weeks in the year.

Great business men have this habit. Napoleon would not have been Napoleon but for his unfailing promptness.

Time is cheap, and we are apt to think we can filch it as we will. But it is always ourselves we rob, not Time.

There are few, if any rules of conduct more important and yet more lightly neglected than that of promptness in keeping appointments.

SCHOOLS OPEN

And Work for the Year in Both Schools

Institute Opened Monday and Union College Tuesday.

Vacation is over and school have begun and all the young folks are now busily engaged with their studies.

The public High School began its work for the present year on September 1, and now has an enrollment of almost 230.

The Baptist Institute opened last Monday with a fair attendance and will increase as days go by.

Union College opened last Tuesday with a splendid attendance and it is the expectation of the management that this school will enjoy the largest attendance this year of any in its history.

Pupils are coming in from all parts of the country and the accommodations now are such that the boarding students can be properly cared for.

Truly Barbourville is a first-class school town.

Woman's Home Companion for September.

"The most beautiful queen on any throne," this what Kellogg Durland calls the Empress of Russia, in great series of articles entitled, "The Romance of a Woman's Home Companion for September." Mr. Durland, who is the author of "Red Reign," spent a year in Russia, getting together all the facts of the romantic and sad life of the most popular queen in the world.

In this issue Irving Bacheller begins a new series of Cricket Tales, which bids fair to be even more popular than was his famous "Eben Holden."

Other stories are "The Golden Wedding," by Alice Brwon; "The Dredge," by Jester Willard Tompkins; "The Girl in the Mirror," by Hubert Footner; "Dare You Love Me?" by Annie Hamilton Donnell, and the Minister's Barrell's," by Hettie Bosley Goldrick.

Jack London on his trip around the world which he is making for the Woman's Home Companion in his boat, the Shark, has stopped long enough to send the magazine from far-off Tahiti a description of the "Nature Man" whom he ran across in that distant Pacific island.

Jean Webster, who wrote "When Patty Went to College," has been in Japan and tells in the September number how she, with three or four girl friends, set up housekeeping in "The House of Wistaria Water."

Paderewski has selected for Companion readers the best program of modern Polish music, which is accompanied by the full music of one of the most beautiful of the numbers in the great pianist's program: "Stojowski's Folk Dance."

The September number is the great Fall Fashion Number of Woman's Home Companion, and contains many things of interest for every woman.

A good deal is written about the June bride, but the young man who marries in September, if he is the right sort, will never have occasion to regret.

If a man wears his trousers out at the bottom he's generally a vagabond; if at the knee he's religious, or a good orchardist; but if in the seat he's either a good wagoner or a lazy printer.

GAS WELLS

Inexhaustible and Show High Pressure.

A few days ago we accepted an invitation to visit the gas well on the Mayhew farm and witness a test of its capacity.

The rumor being circulated among our citizens that the supply of gas was about exhausted, we thought we would go and see for ourselves.

Upon reaching the well the gas was turned open and made such a deafening, roaring noise that you could not hear one speak at your elbow. The test showed a pressure of 310 feet to the square inch, which shows that although the well has been in use for two years, it is now as strong as when first connected.

The Faulkner well has been supplying the entire town for some time past, and would furnish sufficient gas to run our entire town, while the Mayhew well, will furnish as much gas in three days as the entire town consumes in a whole month.

There is no foundation ever for the rumor that has gained circulation to the effect that the supply of gas is failing.

Those who contemplate using gas must have no fear of the supply failing and can have their homes plumbed and prepare to use gas as it is here in unlimited quantities and makes the cleanest and cheapest fuel that can be had anywhere.

It will perhaps be news to many people to know that America is the richest country in the world and yet is noted for having the worst roads of any country on the globe. It is a fact to be ashamed of, and at the same time, if we are only going to feel ashamed and not do something to relieve the condition we will be no better off on the road question. Gov. Willson has set September 17, one of the days of the Kentucky State Fair at Louisville, for an organization to be formed for good roads in Kentucky, and the meeting will be held on the Fair Grounds at Louisville. Prominent people will be present and since this is a matter of vital importance to all of us, every one going to the Fair should endeavor to be present at this meeting and take part in the launching of the Good Roads Association for Kentucky. Let us make the Association such a success that Kentucky will do more than her share in redeeming America's roads and set the other States a model example.

When hauling loads to market don't leave the stone in the road with which you block the wheel. Throw it aside.

There are many men who do not place a true valuation upon their wives until they have lost them, and are obliged to hire only moderately interested housekeepers to whom they must pay real wages.

OUT OF THE GINGER JAR.

A thing of beauty is a joy forever; But a thing of duty is a job no clever.

Prepare for a rainy day before the clouds begin to gather.

Some men don't scrub out the bathtub after taking a bath, so his wife has to do it.

What kind of essence does a young man like when he pops the question? Acquiescence.

When a dozen things crowd at once, it takes a level headed man to hustle and not get rattled.

There are various and several kinds of undesirable trusts, but trusting to luck is the extreme limit.

How the women do hate to get their clothes all wet because hubby won't eat the weeds along the path.

A young society woman likes to get on to a new wrinkle, while the older ones endeavor to get off of it.

We needn't go to dime novels for heroines. Look into the kitchen at that old lady who is secretly dying for a new magazine, a picnic, or a dollar of her very own, and often lies down to last rest without getting it.

That cheerful old fellow with the scythe always gets all that is coming to him.

He is 59 years of age and has done hard service for the party and has never been rewarded as yet with an office. He is a poor man and needs the office and is well qualified to fill the same.

He places his claims in the hands of the party and will abide by the result of the primary on January 5, 1909.

THE HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

Pleasant Evening Reveries.—A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.—Crude Thoughts from the Editorial Pen.

A MODEL WIFE.

A model wife is the woman, who looks after his household, and makes her hospitality a delight to him, and not a burden: who has learned that a soft answer will turn away wrath, who keeps her sweetest smiles and loving words for her husband; he is her confidante in sorrow or in joy, who does not feel the necessity of explaining her private affairs to the neighborhood; who respects the rights of husband and children, and in return has due regard paid to her; who knows that the strongest argument is her womanliness, and so she cultivates it; who is sympathetic in joy or grief, and who finds work for hands to do; who is not made bitter by trouble, but who strengthens and sweetens under it; who tries to cancel the faults of her husband, rather than blazon them forth to an uninterested public; the woman whose life-book has love written on every page; who makes a home for a man, a home in a house and in a heart, a home that he is sure of, a home that is full of love presided over by one whose price is above rubies. She is the model wife.

The excuse, if indeed she takes the trouble to make one at all, that "it is so much more comfortable," has little idea of the public consequences of such a course. Could she realize that her dress is an evil example to her daughters, and productive of consequences that will reach far beyond her own span of life; that her husband's sons cannot fail to draw comparisons between her dress and that of the ladies they meet in other homes, and that these comparisons cannot fail to decrease their respect for her, she might be induced to give more attention to her personal appearance.

Not even the burden of care and constant employment can furnish a sufficient excuse for the careless personal habit, for few things are more important to the well-being of a family. There is an old saying to the effect that an idiot mother has disobedient children, and, while neither parents or children may realize the why or wherefore of it, yet there is always a lack of respect and an indifference to the authority of a mother who takes no pride in her personal appearance.

And it is not the mother alone upon whose shoulders rests the burden of responsibility for home neatness and order in illness; the father has his duties to look after as well, and should never fail to insist upon the younger members of the family presenting themselves with well-kept hands, clean faces, neatly brushed hair, and orderly dress, at least at every meal where the family assembles.

A purpose is the prime condition of success, the eternal never changes condition. Nothing can take its place. The highroad to success lies through purpose, and one trouble with us is that we lack purpose, and lacking that, lack principle, lack backbone, lack grit. Not having a purpose in life, we have no power to take strong hold of some strong work and do it. No man is ever likely to accomplish any more than he resolutely sets himself to accomplish. The tendency is to drift, to float with the current, to let the stream of life sweep us whither it will. That is the easier way doubtless, and the banks are very beautiful and pleasant as we glide between them; but true journey lies the other way, the real treasure mines of life are in the hills near the source of the river; and we must row, row hard, against the current if we would reach them. Let us row, and not float through life; steer, not drift.

GEMPTION ON THE FARM.

Potatoes that have been well protected all through the season by the Bordeaux spray, are not so likely to rot in the cellar or pit.

Don't neglect that crack in the root too long. Shove in a shingle and fasten it down with a nail, then you'll feel easy.

If your potatoes are rotting, do not be in a hurry to dig them. Let them stay in the ground till they get through rotting. The first cool days will put an end to the rot. Ever hear of the man who spent a day hunting for the largest ear of corn in his field, and then took it to the local paper with the statement that he had "sixty acres just like that?"

Later August or early September is a good time to cut posts and poles. Peel them at once, let them season, and they will be very durable. Char or tar the end which goes in the ground and their durability is much increased.

One bushel and a half of wheat is ample to sow an acre. As soon as the wheat is sown, if the land is not underdrained, it is advisable to plow some furrows where they will carry off any water that might collect in depressions. Sow the crop late, as to escape the Hessian fly—in the North about September 15th or 20th; farther South a week later.

NEATNESS OF DRESS AT HOME.

The importance of neat and tasteful home dressing cannot be overestimated. The matron who appears before the members of the family in shabby, soiled wrapper and makes

EACH BROTHER

Miller Brothers Manage Details of Their Immense Enterprise.

There are few enterprises requiring a number of executive heads, which are conducted by one family, as the case of Miller Brother's Show. Associated with the Miller Brothers in their great enterprise is Edward Arlington, who was for many years one of the chief lieutenants of the late James A. Bailey, owner of Barnum & Bailey's show. It is upon him that falls the "show business" end of the enterprise.

"It is Zack Miller who arranges the programs," said P. W. Harrell, one of the advance men of the big wild west show. He knows the nature and value of every act in the show and every winter is busily engaged arranging all broncho hustling and roping champions. Edward Arlington is the advertising genius of the show. The poster designing and the manner and extent of display in each town are decided by him. He has 75 picked men in the advance advertising department. He selects the cities and towns for exhibition, and makes the railroad arrangements. Jo C. Miller looks after the finances and is the prompt arbiter of all local contingencies.

"No man in the show business has a wider acquaintance with reporter and their editors than he, or is more welcome in newspaper offices. He knows what to write and protects the reader as sensitively as the oldest editor could wish. He is popular with the leaders of the business and his associates would work off their heads and mortgage their shoulders for him.

"George L. Miller, the youngest brother remains at the ranch, which comprises 110,000 acres, and includes three different counties, and is located at Bliss, Okla. It is his duty to make weekly shipments of outlaw horses, better known as bucking broncos, long-horned steers, and occasionally a fresh supply of bronco-busting cowboys."
